

Song for Obama

—Edward Sanders

Like the oak tree of Lincoln
In the forever of America
Someone has come
Like a giant of promise
His name is Barack Obama

You can see him standing tall for all
With his head tilting back Smiling at the chance to help a great nation find its path

Like the oak tree of Lincoln
In the forever of America
Someone has come
Like a giant of promise
His name is Barack Obama

It's hard to be cynical
When your face is full of joy
When the time is really here to see such a happy day!

Like the oak tree of Lincoln
In the forever of America
Someone has come
Like a giant of promise

Sometimes you can't perceive that the door has opened wide
You think that it's shut for always and always
But now his time is here

Like the oak tree of Lincoln
In the forever of America
Someone has come
Like a giant of promise
His name is Barack Obama
